

Cola Clothes

Description:

Second Thread is a marketplace for buying and selling secondhand clothing, from everyday basics to name-brand finds. Buyers can browse listings by category, size, and brand, and view multiple photos of each item's condition before purchasing. Sellers can list an item by entering its details and uploading photos, making it easy to turn a closet clean out into extra cash. A simple checkout flow lets buyers confirm their size and shipping details before completing an order. The design is clean and photo-forward, letting the clothing itself stand out on every page.
